The airline started to compete within the confines of the existing industry by trying to steal customers from their rivals, especially the state monopoly carrier Air Lingus, outlined by Chan Kim and Renée Mauborgne (2004) as Bloody or Red Ocean Strategy . Ryanair seemed to follow a me-too strategy ; according to Osborne, K. (2005), they tried to be all things to all people . Even they started restructuring; their strategy was not enough differentiated and their cost advantage was too low to be profitable. Ryanair then created a competitive advantage through the alignment of the three components of business systems; 1)Creating superior value for their customers (outside perspective) 2)Supplying their superior value-adding activities in an effective and efficient manner (which jointly form the Value Chain) 3)Possessing over the resource base required to perform the value-adding activities, (inside perspective) According to Porter (1987), corporate strategy is what makes the corporate whole add up to more than the sum of its business unit parts. It is seen to be concerned with the overall purpose and scope of the organisation and to meet the expectations of major stakeholders. All aspects of Ryanair s value chain are important to the company and their shareholders as Ryanair s decisions add value to both. The following report outlines the three perspectives of shaping...
