Albrecht Durer Me: Travels, 2004 to 2014 (Paperback)

By David Zieroth

Harbour Publishing, Canada, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 231 x 157 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. David Zieroth's Albrecht Dürer and me, an autobiographical travelogue spanning the author's journeys through central Europe, explores the transformative effect of dislocation. Inspired by and responding to art and music, history and war, architecture and place, this collection unearths knowledge that can only be realized by leaving home. Throughout the book, the observant eye of a visitor witnesses the layering of history and the contemporary, and contemplates the juxtaposition of the practical aspects of travelling (travelling without earplugs) with emotional and spiritual evolution (Self-portrait Nude). Responding to greats such as W.H. Auden, James Joyce and Albrecht Dürer, the speaker expresses how viewing foreign artwork or hearing unfamiliar music can spark a new awareness, not only of international culture, but of the expression of life and the human condition. The poems temper the high with the low, reflecting the many dualities of wanderlust. Stately homes are contrasted with war-scarred architecture, and sleepless nights, crowded trains and missed connections offset literature and symphony. train ride is one of many poems that reflect on the contrast between subtle signs of recent...
