A prolonged illness made it impossible to produce any book in time for last year s Stuart Exhibition, and now on the eve of public attention being directed to the Tudor epoch in English history, these studies appear. That the time is not, however, inopportune, a survey of the conflicting ambitions and consequent rivalries of the two families of Tudor and Stuart will prove; while the fact that Margaret, sister of Henry VIII., by her marriage with James IV. of Scotland, linked the two dynasties together by the ties of kinship, and brought it about that their respective interests should soon become identical under one crown, made each of those historical subjects attractive in connection with the other.
